To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck ranging in size from a cherry one to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street, or in society. Physicians and their treatment and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally. The small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared and the large ones broke; in about two weeks discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two small scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES North, South, East and West. To CUTICURA REMEDIES I owe my health, my happiness and my life. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

WASHINGTON.

Congressional Delay will not Prevent the Lease.

A LIVELY TILT IN THE SENATE

Both Houses at Work on the Appropriation Bills, with Indications of a Continuous Run to Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Unusual efforts have been made during the present session and especially during the last few days to have passed the bill introduced last session to authorize the Union Pacific railroad to lease branch lines. This would have removed every bar that exists tending to prevent the [illegible] from leasing the O. R. & N. It is now certain that no such bill can be [illegible] this congress. Elijah Smith, president of the O. R. & N., and Charles Francis Adams, president of the Union Pacific, have both been in [illegible] for the past few days. Answering an inquiry, Mr. Smith states that he and Mr. Adams had taken the matter over carefully [illegible] the [illegible] now the understanding [illegible] under the authority granted by the Oregon legislature they will proceed [illegible] as practicable to have the lease consummated. Any contract or agreement entered into will not be as clear or binding as if congress had taken favorable action on the Union Pacific bill, but the president of the [illegible] and lawyers who have examined the subject are of the opinion that under the authority now granted papers consummating the lease can be drawn strong enough to prevent any legal misunderstandings or litigation. Mr. Smith thinks the lease will be so clearly beneficial to the Union Pacific that congress, during the next session, will without doubt authorize the Union Pacific to lease branches or at least pass such a measure as will ratify this particular lease.

OBJECTIONS TO WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

This morning, Delegate Voorhees asked unanimous consent to make a statement as regards the bill validating certain legislative acts of Washington territory with a view to have the bill considered. He began by explaining the bill and made mention of the woman suffrage act as among those asked to be validated. Upon this senator-elect Daniel of Virginia said he should object to consideration of the bill unless this one act was omitted from the list. Voorhees then began to speak in favor of woman suffrage as a general principle and this brought objection from other members. So many objections were raised that Voorhees had to yield the floor. Those who objected most strongly stated to the delegate that if he would omit from the list that one act they would withdraw objections. He replied that he would not do this and so the matter went over. He states that he hopes yet to secure passage of the bill before to-morrow noon as Speaker Carlisle has promised to recognize him to move suspension of the rules and he feels certain that he can secure a two-thirds vote for the measure.

NORTHWEST APPROPRIATIONS.

The sundry civil bill passed by both branches of congress includes among other items, a senate amendment appropriating $60,000 for a first order coast lighthouse at Cape Meares, Tillamook county or at Cape Lookout, if in the opinion of the light house board that sight is more advantageous to mariners. Provision is made for lighting the Columbia and Willamette rivers, and on Puget Sound $7,000 are appropriated for continuing the survey of the coast of Oregon, and the survey of the Columbia river from the mouth of the Willamette toward the Cascades, $9,000 for the survey of the coast of Washington Territory, $10,000 for continuing explorations in the waters of Alaska, $10,000 for the establishment of a salmon hatchery on the Columbia, its tributaries or branches, and $500 for the repair of the signal service cable at the mouth of the Columbia. The money is immediately available.

THE ANNEXATION BILL.

Something more than a flutter was raised this afternoon among citizens of the North-west by a rumor that the bill annexing northern Idaho to Washington territory would be vetoed by the president. This was occasioned by the interior department telegraphing to a member of the senate asking for all protests that had been filed by Idaho against division of the territory. The telegram chanced to get into the hands of friends of annexation and several senators and congressmen went at once to the interior department and on their showings Secretary Lamar later wrote a letter to the president saying that he can see no valid reasons why the bill should not be signed. There is now every reason to believe that the bill will become a law. Probably to Philip Ritz of Walla Walla, is due most credit for having created interest in this measure among senators.

T. C. J.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The senate reassembled as in continuation of yesterday's session at 10 this morning. A message from the house announcing non-concurrence in the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill was presented and a conference ordered. Messrs. Hale, Allison and Beck were appointed conferees.

A few minutes before 1 the senate closed the legislative day of Wednesday by adjournment and opened the last legislative day of the 49th congress, when prayer was offered by the chaplain. The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, acting on amendments recommended by the committee on appropriations as they were reached. As the committee on appropriations had reported very few amendments to the bill and those of but little importance, there was no delay beyond that made necessary by the complete reading of the bill.

In response to an appeal made by Jones of Nevada, amendments cutting down the appropriations for the Carson mint from $75,000 to [illegible] were disagreed to with the consent of Allison and the appropriations for the mint are as originally reported. The bill was then passed.

Allison then submitted a conference report on the sundry civil bill.

AN EXPLANATION BY ALLISON.

In explanation of the action of the senate conferees Allison said that in order to come to an agreement they had postponed several appropriations which the senate deemed necessary. For instance they had had to consent to the reduction by one half of the provision to complete the international survey of the Mexican border and the same as to the survey between British Columbia and Alaska. Also the conferees had been obliged to surrender large appropriations for public buildings as for instance the one at Los Angeles, Cal., which had been cut down from $1[illegible] to $[illegible]. He might run through the whole gamut of public buildings and show how the senate conferees had had to make concession after concession. As to the coast survey the appropriation for field work had been cut down from $215,000 to $1[illegible]. These surrenders of expenditures were only postponed. They would have to be provided for next year or the year after.

HOAR SEVERELY CRITICISES RANDALL.

Hoar said that he intended to call the attention of the senate to what seems to him a very grave evil—one that threatened in substance a revolutionary change in the constitutional methods of the government. What he asked was the effect of the holding back of appropriation bills until the last seven or ten or fifteen days of a session of congress. The result was that unless the house and senate both submitted to the dictation of some three or four men who happened to be members of the committee on appropriations in the house of representatives on the majority side the great appropriation bills [illegible] fail and [illegible] be one necessary. It perfectly horrified Mr. President that this body has passed bill after bill with substantial unanimity having no political significance—bills matured by able men of the [illegible] of this chamber and having the full endorsement of the great authority and yet because three or four persons clothed with the authority of the house of representatives chose to oppose those bills they could not get consideration in that body, although there was no shadow of doubt that [illegible] of the members of the house would be in their favor if they were [illegible]. That is a [illegible] of this which in [illegible] our fathers would [illegible].

THEY DEFEND CARLISLE.

After referring to the action of the speaker of the house [illegible] certain members because he (the speaker) did not [illegible] measures [illegible] Hear [illegible] He [illegible] to assert [illegible] of the house [illegible] Niagara twenty [illegible] whom many of us have [illegible] generally supposed to have a pretty strong will and a pretty strong desire to [illegible] the administration [illegible] thinks ought to be [illegible] eight years [illegible] He [illegible] was permitted to [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] by calling the yeas and nays on questions on which they thought the republicans would not like to commit themselves. It is true that occasionally when business pressed during the last twenty-four or forty-eight hours of the session, Speaker Blaine would exercise his selection of persons to be recognized in accordance with what he believed to be the will and desire of the house and that was all. But who ever heard of Blaine if a member desired to be recognized to move the adoption of a measure that would pass unanimously or nearly unanimously if proposed informing that member that the presiding officer had determined that it was not expedient to have any measure of that kind proposed during that session of congress. Mr. President this is a question which goes clear down to the fundamental rocks on which our constitutional structure is erected. I would rather have the emperor of Russia or the king of Bombay to rule over me than to have under the pretense of constitutional form a right denied to any representative to utter the will of the American people when constitutionally expressed by the voice of a majority in each branch. We have not thought it desirable in the state of public feeling in the condition of public business, in the prevailing sentiment of the American people to insist upon an extra session of congress, but I wish for one to give notice that in my judgment this is the last time that usurpation will be submitted to.

BECK TO THE DEFENSE.

Beck—I was called out of the chamber for a while and was only in time to hear what seems to be a most remarkable tirade against the speaker of the house of representatives. That gentleman needs no defense at my hands and I had supposed that in the senate of the United States under the rules and privileges of the occasion that comment upon the action of the speaker would not be indulged in. I have only this to say—that there is no man in Massachusetts or outside of Massachusetts who will attack either the integrity, honesty or ability of the speaker of the present house with impunity in his presence. There are 150 partisans of the senator from Massachusetts on the floor of the other house all of whom have a right to make whatever attack they please, and if they do they will receive a response befitting the attack.

Hoar—I ask the senator from Kentucky whether he denies a single assertion of fact that I have made or whether he does not agree with me in my opinion of this matter and whether he does not think it an invasion of the constitutional power of the senate and the house.

BECK'S REPLY.

Beck—I have no right to know on this floor whether the statements made by the senator from Massachusetts are true or not. If they are true and if they are invasions of the rights of the house of representatives, there are representatives there able to take care of themselves. The speaker of the house is also able to take care of himself against any one and all who see fit to attack him. Mr. Blaine's name had been brought up and contrasted with the present speaker. There never has been in that chair a man of more undoubted integrity, a man of greater fairness or more ability than the present speaker of that house and I think it is not fair to attack him behind his back when no man dares to attack him before his face. I ask the senator from Massachusetts to go over to the house and get some of the able representatives on that floor to make this charge and I will guarantee that the speaker will come down from the chair and refute all the slanders which they dare to heap upon him. I have no idea that he has violated any rule of that body or any rule of courtesy or any rule of honor or that he has done any act revolutionary or any wrong since he has presided over that body or that any man will dare to tell him that he has. Let the senator from Massachusetts go over there and persuade the bitterest partisan on that floor to rise in his place and make the charges there which the senator has made here and he will be answered to the satisfaction of the country.

HOAR'S REJOINDER.

Hoar—Mr. President, I have made no criticism affecting the personal honor or the personal character of anybody. I spoke simply of usurpation of constitutional power, which blocks legislation. If I had been a member of the house of representatives I should have discussed it there. I discuss it as an American citizen, as an American senator and I say (I do not believe there are five men on the other side of the chamber who differ from me) that it is a total reversal, a revolution of constitutional methods of procedure in legislation in any country. I have said nothing which involves any disrespect to the accomplished gentleman and public man to whom the senator from Kentucky has just referred. My respect for him is as great as the senator's in all particulars which make up the character of the gentleman or the character of an able and accomplished statesman. I am not dealing with that. I am dealing with an assertion of constitutional power which if it pass unrebuked and it be successful will turn the whole legislative mechanism of this country into farce.

Beck—I do not believe that the distinguished speaker of the house has done any wrong intentionally and I do not believe that any man will dare say in his presence what has been said on this floor behind his back without having an answer which he would not like to hear and which would be a thorough vindication.

BLACKBURN ALSO DEFENDS CARLISLE.

Blackburn—Mr. President, I am disposed to regret that my colleague found it necessary to make any reply to the unwarranted, unfounded and inexcusable tirade which the senator from Massachusetts has seen fit to indulge in. It may be true that the rules of this senate have become moss grown and old and effete to the senator from Massachusetts but it occurs to me that the universal rules of propriety and self respect and common decency should yet prevail among us. I do not think that the speaker of the American congress needs any defense from an attack like that emanating from such quarter. The idea of the senator from Massachusetts assuming to stand on this floor and preach homilies on non-partisan legislation is more absurd than the devil's prating about the scheme of universal redemption. Wherever the name of that speaker of the house is known and recognized throughout this country or throughout the world it is a synonym for all that is decent and for all that is fair. His able republican colleagues in the house (outside of mere formal methods) have attested their appreciation of his great qualities by enduring mementos and souvenirs and have given proof of their appreciation of the falsity of the charges here lodged against him. He needs no defense at the hands of my colleague, or at my hands. Where he is known an assault like that will not hurt him and I flatter myself that even in the state of Massachusetts where the senator is known and seems to be appreciated it will not work a great deal of harm. The senator comes here and makes this assault not alone on a member of the house, but on its presiding officer and when pressed by an inquiry as to what reason he had to do that he makes an answer, if answer it can be called or termed, which I must be permitted to say is neither creditable to his candor nor to his manliness. When the senator denominates the speaker of the American congress an usurper I deny it and say that it is not true and that nothing in the record will sustain such an assertion. When he says the speaker of the American congress refused to submit a tariff or taxation system or stated that he would not submit a tariff or taxation system of the country, I deny that and say that it is not true. I simply rose to express a hope that the day would come when the state which I think [illegible] to the senate chamber of the country such men as Daniel Webster and Rufus Choate would at last find an opportunity to honor itself and do an especial service to the American people by sending here a man which will be at least the peer of the present speaker of the house in all that goes to constitute fair dealing, high character and able patriotism.

This closed the discussion and then the question was put upon the conference report which was agreed to without division.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Upon motion of Vest the house bill to organize a land district for "no man's land" previously passed by the senate with amendments was reconsidered and the votes by which the senate amendments were adopted were reconsidered. The senate amendments were then re-enacted and an amendment of the house bill was passed.

A conference report upon the bill to provide for bringing suits against the United States was made and agreed to.

A number of vetoed bills for public buildings were then passed over the veto.

Plumb submitted a conference report upon the postoffice appropriation bill, the result being that the disagreement with respect to the subsidy feature [illegible].

Senator Hale reported from the committee on appropriations the general deficiency bill. This is the last of the regular annual appropriation bills remaining to be acted upon by the senate. Recess.

AFTER RECESS.

When the senate reassembled the conference report on the postoffice appropriation bill (disagreement) was taken up. The only point of disagreement is as to the South American mail service.

[illegible] moved that the senate recede. Rejected. The senate insisted upon its amendment and the [illegible] conferees (Plumb, Mahone and Beck) were appointed.

Allison, from the committee on appropriations, reported back the house bill appropriating $[illegible] for payment of pensions to Mexican war survivors. Passed.

[illegible] from the calendar the [illegible] bill [illegible] sections 51[illegible] and [illegible] revised [illegible] the nature of a [illegible] substitute provides that [illegible] three-fourths of the national banks [illegible] city [illegible] population [illegible] to the comptroller of the currency to have the [illegible] added to the list of reserved cities [illegible] revised statutes [illegible] shall have authority to grant such [illegible] must keep in [illegible] at least [illegible] per cent of their deposits [illegible] in cities of [illegible] population [illegible] New York, places for bank redemption or central cities, as provided in section [illegible].

Williams moved to add San Francisco to the latter class of cities. Agreed to. The bill passed and a conference was asked.

On motion of Wilson of Iowa the vote of last evening, by which the bill to amend the section in reference to the jurisdiction of United States courts was passed was reconsidered [illegible] agreeing to Cullom's amendment fixing the salaries of judges at $5000 and prohibiting the appointment of relatives as court officials, was also reconsidered. Then the bill was passed and a conference asked.

Plumb presented a conference report on the bill to adjust railway land grants heretofore unadjusted. Agreed to.

A message from the house at 10 P. M. announced the passage of the urgent deficiency bill and the presiding officer laid the bill before the senate.

Mr. Edmunds objected to the second reading of the bill. (The objection if insisted on prevents consideration of the bill at the present session.)

At 10:20 the senate took up the deficiency bill consisting of 104 printed pages.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Warner of Ohio called up the vetoed bill granting a pension to Sally Ann Bradley. The house refused to pass the bill over the veto—yeas 130, nays 1[illegible], not the constitutional two-thirds voting in the affirmative.

Morrow of California moved to suspend the rules and pass the senate bill appropriating $350,000 for the purchase of a site for the postoffice at San Francisco, Cal. Agreed to.

Cox of North Carolina moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill repealing the tenure of office act. The motion was agreed to and the bill passed—yeas 172, nays 67.

A bill passed 147 to 21 accepting certain land near Chicago for military purposes.

The house then took a recess until 8 o'clock.

OTHER APPROPRIATION BILLS.

Senate amendments to the legislative appropriation bill were non-concurred in.

Burns of Missouri, under instructions from the committee on appropriations, moved to suspend the rules and pass the urgent deficiency bill. The bill appropriates for deficiencies in the postoffice department $[illegible], in the treasury department for printing one and two dollar silver certificates and U. S. legal tender notes $270,000, in the department of justice $[illegible],000, and for payment of certified claims $[illegible].

McComas of Maryland objected to the presentation of the bill as being hasty, ill advised and panic stricken and protested against the irregularities of the proceeding.

Randall suggested that nobody but the gentleman from Maryland was panic stricken. The majority was quite cool and determined. The bill was presented as a matter of caution, not as a matter of necessity. The bill was then passed.

Henderson of Iowa moved to suspend the rules and pass the senate bill granting a pension of $2000 to Mary S. Logan, widow of the late John A. Logan and addressed the house in support of the bill.

He had called that bill up, he said, in obedience to the promptings of his own heart and the overwhelming sentiment of the country. There were precedents. Similar pensions had been granted to the widows of Admiral Farragut and Gens. Thomas and Hancock. Gen. Logan, when he died, died rich in everything except property.

OPINION OF A MICHIGAN MAN.

Tarsney of Michigan asked the gentleman when he talked about admirals and generals who had done distinguished services in the wars of the Union to bear in mind that it was not generals alone who won great victories. There were in the ranks thousands and tens of thousands of humble noble soldiers, the graves of many of whom were to-day unmarked beyond the Potomac river, who had never been heard of in the halls of congress asking for pensions. He came from a Michigan democratic family that furnished five brothers to the federal service. None of them were here asking congress for a pension for their violent services in behalf of the preservation of the Union. He came from a family, one of whom lay dead somewhere beyond the Potomac. His record on the books of the war department read "killed in the Wilderness." Another had spent seventeen months within the confines of a Confederate prison. Two others bear scars of honorable conflict. He protested in the name of his country against voting a pension to the family of a distinguished statesman, when the families of men who bared their breasts to the Confederate bullets and moved shoulder to shoulder in the ranks of the privates were forgotten. The gentleman had referred to Farragut and Thomas, and Hancock. Did the gentleman forget that those distinguished men were still serving as officers at the time of their death. Gen. Logan was not in active service at the time of his death and the house was asked to force a civil pension list upon the American people. For his part, and in behalf of the great commonwealth of Michigan, he protested against it.

A RETORT.

Allen of Mississippi, referring to intimations that ex-confederates would vote against the bill on account of ill will they bore against those who had been victorious over them, declared that he represented the sentiment of every confederate when he said that there was not lingering in the south one single scintilla of hatred or prejudice or ill will against any man because he was opposed to it in that unfortunate conflict.

"You forgive us, do you?" queried Johnson of Indiana, amid laughter.

"We forgive," retorted Allen, "the soldier, but we do not forgive demagogues who are trying to make capital of the soldiers." [Laughter and applause.]

Cannon of Illinois believed that it would be good policy to give the widow of Gen. Logan a $2000 pension. He did not stop to inquire whether she was on the verge of poverty. He did not place this case on that ground, but rather as a tribute on the part of a grateful country to the widow of a man who served it well, as an incentive to those who were to follow in his footsteps.

RANDALL FAVORS THE BILL.

Randall of Pennsylvania said he had voted to give the widows of Gens. Thomas and Hancock $2000 a year. They had been exceptional cases, and he was ready here to-night to make an exceptional case on behalf of the widow of John A. Logan. [Applause.] He could detect no line of difference in the heart beats or the nerve pulses of the three men as they stood in behalf of the Union except in this—that two of them had been in the regular army and that there were precedents for granting pensions to their widows. He proposed to make a precedent in behalf of the volunteer army of the United States. (Applause.) He spoke the sentiments of the people he represented.

Matson of Indiana believed that in the granting of large pensions there was danger to the American people and the American government. To give a pension of $2000 to those who did not need it tended to the building up of an aristocracy with money wrung out of the sweat of the people.

The motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill was lost—yeas 145, nays 113—not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative.

THE NAVAL BILL.

An Agreement Reached by the Conferees —It Appropriates $14,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The conferees on the naval bill have agreed. It is impossible to get the exact totals or features of the bill in detail as the clerical work is not finished. In general terms, however, it can be said that the senate plan dividing the appropriation between cruisers and harbor defense is adopted. The bill carries an appropriation of about $14,000,000 in round numbers in excess of the regular provision for naval establishment. This is for repairs of old vessels, for two cruisers and for armor and armored ships, the number of new fast cruisers to be built is four. The amount to be expended for [illegible] heavily armored craft as the [illegible] authorities may decide is $2,000,000.

It is admitted as a probability by members of the senate committee on appropriations that the general deficiency bill will fail. The failure will not necessitate an extra session.

THE COUNTY SEAT FEUD.

Both Towns Guarded by Armed and Desperate Men—More Bloodshed Feared.

DENVER, March 3.—Wallace (Kansas) special to the News: The situation at Coronado and Leoti remains unchanged. Both towns are surrounded by a strong cordon of men, who permit no one to enter. Men in both towns sleep with their guns and after gaining admission, strangers find Winchesters at every turn. They stand in doorways and merchants bring their guns to wait on customers. Men patrol the streets of the city all day and night. The country surrounding is as excited as the towns and about as equally divided. The Coronado sympathizers are for the most part in town with their ammunition and guns and a Coronado man said to-day that within an hour 400 men could be recruited in the town ready to defend it with their lives.

At Leoti the cry is for revenge. The citizens are assisted as they were on the day following the shooting, and they are unanimous in a determination to give back Coronado at the first opportunity. This will probably be effected Thursday when the [illegible].

Immediately after the shooting Sunday some [illegible] from Leoti came to Wallace and secured all the guns and ammunition they could get. Representatives of Coronado made a similar mission to [illegible] so that both towns are well equipped [illegible] war, which every man believes will [illegible] before the thing is settled.

The Leoti population which has been recruited by their country cohorts are looked to for the first move and the Coronado men will act on the defensive. Each town has [illegible] but they are in too chaotic a state for a logical forecast of the probable result.

Since Sunday there have been no hostile actions, beyond harmless firing of guns at Leoti. Whisky and beer is freely imbibed and these will be at the bottom of further trouble should there be any.

The condition of Sheriff John Edwards who is [illegible] [illegible] to arrest anybody [illegible] such an effort would cost him his life. He has [illegible] Unless the [illegible] assistance [illegible] there will never be [illegible].

RAILROAD NOTES.

CONTRACTS TO TERMINATE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The general freight department of the Pennsylvania railroad has issued a notification that, with the going into operation of the interstate commerce law all existing contracts, tariff rates and special rates for the transportation of all classes of freight which by their terms do not sooner end, will cease and terminate April 4.

New Steamers for Yaquina Bay—Death of Judge McKee of California—A Railroad Rumor—Coast Notes.

VICTORIA, March 3.—The government steamer Sir John Douglas which left for the west coast of Vancouver Island on Saturday last to investigate the reported wreck, returned this evening having on board Capt. Rugg and seventeen of the crew of the Hawaiian bark Thomas R. Foster. They certain state that after the vessel left [illegible] December [illegible] he encountered heavy gales off [illegible] and sprang a leak on the [illegible] after attempting to enter Neah bay and Barclay sound but being met by heavy unfavorable gales. On the 11th the leak increased and on the [illegible] in the afternoon there was twelve feet of water in the hold. The captain decided to run ashore and grounded his vessel near Cape Cook on the northern end of the island.

Two boats were smashed in launching. The third, a small boat, in three trips brought the crew all safe to the barren shore without [illegible] clothing and only a box of crackers and [illegible] cans of fruit and meat as food. They built a hut with the sails and for twenty days lived on one cracker per day and what mussels they could procure. The endured fearful hardships in trying to find an Indian camp. At last ten men on a raft reached an island and one day when sailing across the sound discovered Indian canoes. The Indians took and cared for them and went back to camp for the balance of the crew. They kept all nine days and then Father Nicolaye, Catholic missionary found them and took them to the post and cared for them kindly for six weeks until the Douglas arrived which brought them here. They saved nothing and only have the clothes they stand in.

Altogether they had been seventy-four days on the coast but all are in good health. The bark was loaded with 1000 tons of Wellington coal and was partly owned by Welch of San Francisco, uninsured.

Snowslides are numerous in the Selkirks on the Canadian Pacific. An immense slide on the [illegible] of February caught two engines and a snow plow, burying sixteen workmen. Ten were taken out alive and six dead—Henry Evans, Wm. Ryan, W. S. Greer, C. Start, Smith and Johnson. Several other narrow escapes occurred while digging the men out.

The first through mail arrived to-night since Friday last.

CALIFORNIA.

NEW STEAMERS FOR YAQUINA BAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Beginning about May 1 the Oregon Development company will place two additional steamships on the line between this city and Yaquina bay. There are now two steamers on the route—the Yaquina City, a large iron vessel of 1241 tons, and the Santa Maria, a wooden steamer registering [illegible] tons under charter. The company has two new vessels for service on the way out from Baltimore. One of these is the Willamette Valley. She is an iron screw steamer of 620 tons burden net, and is capable of attaining a speed of twelve knots an hour. Her cabin accommodations for eighty passengers. She left port January 15 and is expected here about April 1. The other vessel is the Eastern Oregon, formerly City of Palatka, built of iron and steel. Her gross tonnage is 863 and she has cabin accommodations for seventy persons. Lately she was fitted out in New York and received twin screws. She can steam thirteen knots with ease. The company expects her here by May 1 as she left Baltimore on the 15th ult. On the arrival of both of these vessels the Santa Maria will be discarded and a steamer will be dispatched three times each week from the sea wall connecting at Yaquina with the Oregon & California and the Oregon Pacific railways for Portland. The company is confident that quicker passage to Portland can be made than by the old route up the Columbia river.

DEATH OF JUDGE M'KEE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Samuel Bell McKee, ex-justice of the supreme court of California, died at his residence at Oakland at 11 o'clock last night. Three weeks ago Judge McKee visited the City of Mexico and during the trip contracted a cold and at San Diego he had an attack of cholera morbus. He returned home a week ago feeling very ill. Thursday last he took to his bed owing to a complication of pneumonia, congestion of the lungs and kidney complaint. Previous sickness had weakened him and he was therefore unable to stand the attack of these diseases. He was conscious to the last minute. He leaves a wife and seven children. His term of office on the supreme bench expired January 1 last. He had served six years and was prominently mentioned as a probable successor to the late Chief Justice Morrison, who died yesterday.

A RAILROAD RUMOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—It is stated to-day that the South Pacific Coast railroad, a narrow gauge line from San Francisco to Santa Cruz, controlled by Senator James Fair, has been sold to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, which it is already announced is pushing a plan for a through route to San Francisco as fast as possible. The representative of the C. B. & Q. road in this city denies that the sale has been effected.

SEAMEN'S WAGES ADVANCED.

Ship owners have raised the rates of seamen's wages as follows: To bar harbors $35 per month, to outside ports $40, to Hawaiian Islands $3[illegible]. This is an advance of $5 all around.

PORTLAND FRIDAY MARCH 4 1887.

THE KINDERGARTEN PROPOSITION.

Those who advocate annexation of the kindergarten to the public schools persist in ignoring every consideration excepting the obvious merits of the former as a system It is not denied that the kindergarten has its proper and very important uses in certain cases. It is not denied that as a method it is practical, and that as a substitute for parental care and home training during the period of babyhood it is the best yet devised If added to the public school system it would no doubt take many little ones from the street or from vicious and squalid home surroundings and set them toward better things

These general facts are admitted But it is not admitted that it is a duty of society to maintain public nurseries If it is a public duty to provide nurseries, why not shoes, clothing, food and domestic care? Why stop at mere day nursing? Why not take children at birth and relieve those who are responsible for their existence of all care? If the free nursery is a public duty then all these things are public duties. The claim for food and clothing are as legitimate as the claims for care in the kindergarten. The kindergarten is a means of supplying care and training which children should get at home, and therefore of relieving parents of duties to which they are bound by the most sacred obligations. In our judgment society can not properly assume these duties, parents can not creditably shirk them.

It is questionable if even so excellent a system as that of the kindergarten, free or otherwise, can adequately supply the place of home training. Those sentiments and affections which in many if not in most people form the basis of character must in the nature of things be lost in part at least under the substitution of state for parental care. Children educated under this system would be too likely to feel that the state was the natural source of all benefits and to look to the state rather than to depend upon themselves. This, indeed, is a fault of the public school system, and one which really practical, as distinguished from sentimental educators, now thoroughly understand On the other hand, to relieve parents of even part of their natural obligations, would tend in the nature of things to a lower notion of parental duty. It would tend to promote inconsiderate and irresponsible propagation of children. It would foster a doctrine which now in many forms threatens society, namely, that it is a duty of government to bear all the real burdens of life.

The financial objection, while least of all in our judgment, is worth attention. It will cost not less than $10,000 per year certainly, and probably much more, to establish the kindergarten in connection with our schools. It should be remembered that already the schools have far outgrown their purpose, that the system is already too elaborate that its support is a heavy tax upon property and in one sense a hindrance to enterprise in this city. It is worth while to consider if we can afford to add to a public school bill already swollen to a public burden

Those who take the sentimental view of things will no doubt fail to see these objections to the proposition now made, or will choose to disregard them. This is the fashion of the time in regard to all that appeals in the name of education. But this thing should be settled by severe, sober judgment. Is it expedient? Is it safe? These are practical questions. It is no answer to the first that there is necessity for charity in special cases, since charity is one thing and public educational policy another It is no answer to the second that the danger is remote.

THE SENATE OF 1887.

Yesterday was the last day of the 50th congress. The U S. senate is a continuous body, but yesterday was the last day of service for a number of gentlemen who have completed their six year term of service. In California Hearst, a democratic money-bag, succeeds a republican; in Connecticut Senator Hawley succeeds himself, as does Dawes in Massachusetts, Gorman in Maryland, Hale in Maine, Cockrell in Missouri, Aldrich in Rhode Island, Edmunds in Vermont, Gray in Delaware, Sherman in Ohio, George in Mississippi, and Sawyer in Wisconsin. Florida has elected Finley in place of Jones, Farwell has succeeded Logan, New York replaces Miller with Hiscock; Michigan drops Conger for Stockbridge, Minnesota McMillan for Ex-Gov. Cushman Davis, Nebraska substitutes Paddock for Van Wyck, New Jersey changes Sewell, a republican railroad ringster, for Blodgett, a democratic tool of the same sort, Indiana sends a copperhead lawyer, Turpie, to take the place of the Union soldier, Gen Harrison, but a protest has been filed against the validity of his election and he is not certain to get his seat at the hands of a republican senate. Wm. M. Stewart, republican, replaces Fair, democrat, from Nevada, Ex-Gov. Cheney fills the unexpired term of the late Senator Pike of New Hampshire, Matthew Quay succeeds Mitchell in Pennsylvania, Reagan get Maxey's seat from Texas, Virginia has elected Daniel, a democrat, in place of Mahone, Lucas, by the appointment of the governor, succeeds to the seat left vacant by the failure of the West Virginia legislature to elect a successor to Senator Camden. Tennessee has elected ex Gov Bate to succeed Whitthorne The republicans may continue to hold their own the loss of Mahone is offset by the gain in Nevada, but at the worst, conceding a republican loss of three in California, Indiana and New Jersey to the democrats the senate will stand thirty nine republicans to thirty-seven democrats We include the uncertain Riddleberger in the republican roll if he should turn democrat in one of the vicissitudes of his inebriety the senate would be a tie

There will probably be a contest over the seat to which Turpie has been elected from Indiana, as a protest has been filed with the senate on the part of the republicans of the Indiana legislature The final vote stood [illegible] for Turpie to 74 for Harrison. One member of the state senate who had voted for Turpie had no right to a seat in that body A republican was elected to that seat by a majority of [illegible] His democratic opponent contested the seat on the allegation that money was used to secure the republican victory Without any proof of this allegation, without even an investigation the democratic contestant, himself charged with bribery and corruption, was seated for the purpose of securing a vote necessary to steal a seat in the U. S senate. Turpie's vote also included the vote of Smith, who as president pro tem of the senate claimed to be in fact and right the lieutenant governor of the state. But since the election of Turpie the supreme court of Indiana have decided that Col. Robinson (republican) was duly elected to the office of lieutenant governor and was entitled by law to preside over the joint convention and that Smith had no right to assume the functions of lieutenant governor. Proofs are also filed that the vote of the democratic greenbacker Robinson was obtained by the promise of a corrupt consideration, and Judge Turpie's own action in signing a statement of the principles of the labor party and promising to support its demands for legislation in return for Robinson's vote was in principle a corrupt bargain. The situation is one that would clearly justify the U S senate in refusing a seat to Turpie, whose action is wittily described by an exchange as turpitude

In the case of Payne the senate established a very pernicious precedent, against the vigorous protest of Senator Hoar, who is a member of the senate committee on elections. The U. S. senate is the sole judge of the election of its own members, and the case of Turpie seems to be clearly one that involves the determination of a most important question, viz whether trickery and corruption shall be allowed to steal a seat in the U. S. senate with entire confidence that the U. S. senate will ratify the steal by abject submission. This is a question that is not always decided on narrow legal grounds, for when Judge Lyman Trumbull, years ago, was elected to the senate, in defiance of the constitution of Illinois, which said no judge should take other office during the term for which he was elected, the senate decided in his favor on the ground that it was for the senate and not for the constitution of a state to pass upon the qualifications of a senator The death of Logan has deprived the senate committee on elections of the most ardent advocates of the Payne precedent, and it is quite likely that Judge Turpie may never sit in the U. S. senate, that he will live to cough up the labor-greenback dose he swallowed to secure his corrupt election Of the changes in the senate, they are in a large sense unimportant. Davis of Minnesota is reputed a brilliant man, Farwell does not make Logan's place good, Hearst is inferior to Williams, Florida has a far stronger man in Finley than Jones Hiscock in New York is head and shoulders above Warner Miller Stockbridge, a money-bag, takes the place of Conger, who was an honest man, of considerable ability in debate, Paddock has previously served in the senate with no reputation, Sewell in New Jersey had nothing to commend him over his successful democratic competitor save the fact that he was a brave and capable Union brigadier during the war. Turpie counts as an able lawyer in Indiana, Stewart of Nevada will more than make Fair's place good in debate, Cheney of New Hampshire is a good business man, Quay is an able political "boss" and was a Union soldier, Reagan is a man of more political ability and experience than his predecessor Maxey, Daniel, who succeeds Mahone, is an eloquent man, of the Southern school of oratory, Bate of Tennessee adds another name to the roll of gallant ex-Confederate generals now in the senate, and, taken all in all, the senate has lost nobody who will be missed or mourned; has gained nobody of solid promise for superior public service

THE FOLLY OF GETTING MAD

If it be true, as reported from Washington, that the president is "getting even" on those democratic members of congress who voted to override his veto, by refusing to approve local measures in which they are interested, he is doing a very wrong and foolish thing. If "public office is a public trust," then the president makes a very improper use of its privileges when he approves or vetoes a bill as a matter of personal favor. The chief magistrate, as such, should have no revenges. According to Mr. Cleveland's own standard, he should have no friends and no enemies, and it is a most outrageous violation of this standard when personal pique is allowed to influence official conduct.

But the reported action of the president is not more mistaken as a matter of propriety than as a matter of policy. No man either in public or private life ever gains anything by getting into a rage, or, at least, showing his anger. Exhibitions of this sort are weak and foolish to the last degree. Their only effect is to bring ridicule and contempt upon the man who is not manly enough to rule his own spirit. And certainly the president is more than foolish in his petulance over an effort which failed. "He may laugh who wins," is a proverb whose spirit seems utterly to be lost sight of.

The president might learn a valuable lesson in self control by studying the course of our governor during the recent legislative session. At the beginning, Governor Pennoyer announced with elaborate arguments in their support, a set of theories on various subjects, intended for the advice and guidance of the legislature He found no support whatever. Bills embodying his notions were neglected or voted down without ceremony almost with contempt. A veto which he saw fit to interpose in an important matter of legislation was overridden by an almost unanimous vote The governor was snubbed by legislative action on the one hand and by inaction on the other. But with consummate mastery of himself and fine social and political tact he kept his temper. He made no complaint. He sought no revenge and when the opportunity for revenge was in his own hands made no use of it but to rebuke his opposers by forbearance And when the legislature adjourned, its members went home with high esteem for the governor. One petulant expression or a single effort to "get even" would have brought a storm upon Governor Pennoyer's head that four years of prudent administration could not have calmed.

Blodgett, elected to succeed Gen. Sewell in the U. S senate by the legislature of New Jersey, owes his election to the republicans, who voted for him to defeat ex-Gov, Abbott. Abbott is an able lawyer who made himself conspicuous when governor by his hostility to the great rail road monopolies that control the politics of New Jersey. Abbott urged the adoption of several measures to secure the adequate taxation of railroad property in Jersey City, which now largely escapes taxation through the former corrupt action of courts and legislatures that were the mere creatures of these great railroad monopolies. Senator Sewell was a notorious tool of the railroad monopolists and failing to re-elect Sewell the corporations flung all their republican influence in favor of Blodgett, a railroad democrat, in order to defeat Abbott, anti-corporation democrat. The result is another addition to the railroad ring in the U. S. senate, the only difference being that the ringster is a democrat where hitherto he has been nominally a republican.

Councilman Gerdes has his eye on the water department, in which he sees great political opportunities His resolutions, introduced into the council, mark the beginning of a "fight" for control of the works. The purpose of his demand is transparent, since it is well known that the commission is arranging a schedule of horizontal reduction

Yesterday a merchant showed us a letter from Wyoming, Pa., containing this statement "We have received notice that, owing to the passage of the interstate commerce bill, all freight rates will be advanced after March 1, 1887." This is a remarkable outcome of an act designed to deliver the country from railway extortions

Judge S B McKee of Oakland, Cal, whose death is reported this morning, was one of those rare men equally worthy of affection and of honor He had a manly gentleness of character which, with his fine talents and perfect integrity, made him the first man in the popular affection of California

THE DEATH OF JUDGE M'KEE

PORTLAND March 3

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The sudden demise of Judge S B McKee which occurred yesterday at Oakland Cal, can but occasion profound regret in the minds of all former Californians now resident in Oregon He had few peers, if any in his adopted state As a judge his decisions, always rendered in the clearest and most perspicuous style showed a master mind which careful research had stored with a wonderful fund of knowledge He was specially endeared to the people of California by the love of justice shown by him in continually overthrowing the fallacies by which legal practitioners sought to subvert it in his court. In him were combined the courage of a Spartan and the endurance of a Stoic As a private citizen his life was without stain. He was at all times gravely courteous and had a quiet manly dignity of his own, the special marks of the gentleman and scholar.

He was a domesticated man He loved his home As father of a considerable family he was all a child could hope or desire in a parent Two of his sons are with us—Mr E. D and Mr Robert L Mc Kee All who knew the late judge will sympathize with them in their sorrow They have lost a good father the world a rarer thing, "a good man"

J FRED CLARK.

FROM EX GOVERNOR GROVER.

PORTLAND, March 3

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

Referring to the article State claims at Washington in this morning's OREGONIAN, you remark of Capt. John Mullan the state agent, that "he was first engaged in this capacity, we believe, by the Grover administration and has since acted by consent but without special warrant." This is an error as to the engagement of Captain Mullan. He was first retained by Governor Thayer There was no state agent at Washington during my administration as executive. On one occasion only I sent my private secretary, Mr. Gilfry, to Washington to relieve the general land office from a confusion growing out of irregular filings sent up there from this state at prior times. I think Capt. Mullan has been a diligent and faithful agent

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE LAW.

"Under Substantially Similar Circumstances and Conditions."

PORTLAND, March 3 1887

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In submitting my views in opposition to those who see in the words "substantially similar circumstances and conditions and in the discretionary power given to the commissioners charged with administration of the interstate commerce law, an easy solution of all difficulties which may arise in settling questions of long and short haul" transportation, particularly in transcontinental business, I do not propose to question either their statements of fact or the soundness of their arguments, but rather to show that, admitting both their facts and arguments, for the present at least and in all probability for some time in the future there can be no reasonable expectation of adjustment based upon their construction of the law

Mr Commissioner Fink, an excellent authority in transportation matters has very ably set forth his interpretation of the second and fourth sections of the law and may stand as a representative of the class I have mentioned He says The railroad companies cannot stop the operation of their roads until they ascertain what the law means and what they are to do under it but they have to interpret as best they can and run the risk of being punished for putting a different construction upon it from the construction which may hereafter be given by the commission or the courts"

And further on in dealing with the question of circumstances and conditions," he gives his views as follows

"These circumstances and conditions must necessarily be such as to legitimately influence the relative charges for long and short hauls The law cannot mean any other circumstances and conditions It cannot refer to extraneous matters, as for example to the conditions of the weather whether it rains or snows, or whether it is hot or cold, but it must refer to the conditions and circumstances which from the very nature of the case control transportation charges and the principal elements that control transportation charges are the cost of the service and competition using the word 'competition' in its widest sense—competition with water routes, competition with rail routes competition between markets, etc. These are the main factors regulating transportation charges and have done so at all times in this and all other countries It must therefore, be these conditions and circumstances to which reference is had in this clause"

Mr Fink enlarges upon this point and concludes that section 4 therefore adds nothing to the requirement of section 1, which is that charges shall be reasonable and just, and then says

There can be no doubt that the above is the correct interpretation of section 4 It fully carries out the intent and object of the law If the long and and short haul rule had been made absolute it is obvious that the very object of the law could not have been attained instead of regulating commerce the law would have obstructed it instead of preventing unjust discrimination it would have created it, it would have stifled competition with water lines and increased the transportation rates it would have deprived the people of facilities to ship to distant markets"

I have endeavored to quote Mr Fink at sufficient length to do justice to his position, but can not give his entire argument It is proper to say however, that it is as forcible as his statement of his position is clear

As I said in the outset, I do not question the soundness of Mr Fink's opinions, and will for argument's sake admit that his construction of the law is correct, nevertheless I fear that those who build their hopes upon the chance of its being adopted by the commissioners or by the railroads themselves will be grievously disappointed.

Mr Fink says that the railroads must construe the law and take the risk The railroads will not take the risk for they dare not, the enormous penalty, cumulative in its nature, would bankrupt any road in a very short time In the absence of a direct and explicit ruling of the commission upon this question, they must and will make their freight rates conform to the letter of the law and leave circumstances and conditions for after consideration

The commissioners have not as yet been named and it will take some time for them, after their appointment, to get themselves in working trim, further time to be fully advised upon the merits of the question, even if it should be the first to engage their attention, and still longer time to reach a conclusion Meanwhile the business of the railroads must go on, and under such a system of charges as will keep them harmless under the law

It is more than doubtful that the commissioners will after all that may be urged in the matter adopt the opinions of Mr. Fink or anything like them The primary object of the law the expressed opinions of its advocates, and the popular clamor it was intended to appease, must have its effect upon the minds of those who are appointed to administer it The fourth section is the law all else in the act is simply in furtherance of the rule laid down in said section and any construction which shall practically nullify its provisions will meet the decided disapproval of the large class who clamored fiercely for the enactment of the law It seems only reasonable to expect that the commissioners will defer to the cry of the people, and proceed to administer the law according to the popular interpretation, waiting for results to appear that may justify any modification of the rule

Mr Fink's paper furnishes an excellent defense of the existing policy of the railroads and would have been an admirable argument against any legislation upon the subject, but as a construction of the law I fear it will be ignored by those who hold the matter in their hands—not deservedly perhaps, but yet ignored.

The country has resolved upon the experiment, and nothing less than a full and fair trial of it can satisfy the demand When it is discovered that instead of regulating it obstructs commerce instead of preventing it creates unjust discrimination and that transportation rates are increased" by its operation, the law will become as obnoxious to the people as it is now excellent in their eyes We may then expect to see congress relieve the commissioners of responsibility in the premises by repealing the fourth section.

Meanwhile long haul shippers who are so fortunate as to possess facilities for shipment by water routes will do well to avail themselves of their advantages.

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM March 3.

There are in attendance, at the Salem public schools 677 pupils, the best showing ever made.

B Coffey, the unquenchable agent of the Umatilla Indians, is making a short visit to his home here

The journals of both the house and senate have been finished and turned over to the secretary of state

Fruit growers are complaining that their fruit trees have been killed by the late cold snap. Raspberries also suffered

Mrs Mattie Scott and Miss Nellie Gilbert are expected home on this evening's train from an extended visit to Oakland, Cal

John H Hertman, of this city, while returning from a trip to Washington territory last Saturday, lost from his pocket $340 in coin, near Portland,

Only one boat of the O R & N company is running on the upper river at present. The boat makes two trips a week coming up Mondays and Thursdays

Mr and Mrs Levy with their children Alfred Hortense and Ernestine have gone to San Francisco to be present at the marriage ceremony of their daughter Bertha to a merchant of [illegible] California,

It has been reported that it was the intention of R P Earhart to move with his family either to Portland or Oakland Cal Mr Earhart however does not contemplate leaving Salem and will probably go into some kind of business here

An entertainment will be given at the asylum to-night by the attendants at which a number of guests from Salem and elsewhere will be present. The principal features of the programme are a drama entitled Pumpkin Ridge and a farce entitled Terrible Toothache"

The water company of this city has in contemplation extensive improvements to their system of water mains All the old wooden mains will be replaced with iron mains and when complete the service will cover ten miles of streets. The expense of the intended improvements will be $10 000

Thos Holman, the owner of the electric light plant here commenced this morning to put in the proposed new lights for the asylum Two arc lights of 2000 candle power each will be placed outside of the building and about 200 incandescent lights will be placed inside Many miles of wire will be required to complete the circuit

There was some probability that Judge W M Ramsey mayor of this city, would be appointed by Gov Pennoyer to the newly created judgeship of the Sixth judicial district It has been discovered however that the law of 1878 provides that any person elected or appointed to a district judgeship shall be a resident of the district at the time, and therefore Judge Ramsey is ineligible.

Messrs Hendricks & Scubert, of the Statesman Publishing company, announce in this morning's paper that they have made arrangements to open a real estate office in a few days. They will place a competent man in charge of the office and it is the intention of the proprietors to boom the real estate market in this part of the country They have the requisite energy and capital at their command

JACKSONVILLE NOTES

JACKSONVILLE, March 2.

Circuit court meets next Monday,

Cloudy, with indications of a good rain

Hon C C Beekman is expected home soon from an extended visit to the Eastern states

The Rogue river distillery is now running on full time and making a large quantity of whisky

The scholars of the public schools are decorating the school grounds by planting evergreen trees upon them

Roads are in a bad condition in all parts of the county and business is nearly at a standstill in consequence

There are several cases of sickness in this vicinity but only with the older folks Health of the children could not be better

The warm rain of yesterday melted most of the snow and the miners have resumed operations once more, with the prospect of a long run

Miss Rose Stannus, the elocutionist, of Tacoma, W T gave one of her dramatic recitals here last night, which was highly enjoyed by all present.

It is rumored that work will soon commence on the extension of the O & C. railroad It is hoped by all in this portion of the state that the rumor is based on good foundation

A revival is being held here by the Methodist denomination, and a good number of conversions have been made. The meetings are conducted by Revs, Skipworth Roberts and Williams.

A POINT FOR MR. GEER.

SALEM, March 2.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

T. T Geer, in writing of the taxation of credits, says the average tax in Oregon is 2 per cent. At the points where credit is usually obtained it is nearly twice that sum If Mr G or his neighbors wish to borrow they probably go to Portland or Salem, possibly Silverton. At Portland and Salem the rate of taxation is about 4 per cent, with an upward tendency. It may be less at Silverton

MARVELOUS CHANGES.

What the Future will be to those who Refuse to Believe.

Is this country unconsciously undergoing a wonderful change, is the change to take place before we are aware of the fact, and when it has taken place will we wonder why we did not see it before it was too late?

Those that see the changes early avail themselves early, and thereby receive benefit.

The shrewd iron man sees the iron interest transferred from Pittsburg and Pennsylvania to Birmingham Ala., and in his far sightedness sees the furnaces in Pennsylvania torn down and deserted for this new and prolific field It is claimed by the iron men of Alabama that the low price at which iron can be produced there will revolutionize the iron interests of the world.

We have seen the grain growing centers of this country shifted to the West. We have seen the pork packing industry lift from Cincinnati to Chicago and from there to Kansas City and Omaha. Southern cotton mills undersell New England and American markets and challenge the world

We have seen and are seeing all this take place before our eyes, and I know that other changes are taking place equally as prominent and we wonder as we behold them Ten years ago the insurance companies only required an analysis of the fluids when they were taking insurance for very large amounts. To-day no first class company will insure any amount unless they have a rigid analysis of the fluids passed, and if any traces of certain disorders are apparent the application is rejected In their reports they show that the death of sixty of every 100 people in this country is due either directly or indirectly to such disorders The Brompton hospital for consumptives London England reports that sixty of every 100 victims of consumption also have serious disorders of the kidneys

Among scientists for the treatment of this dread malady the question is being discussed

"Is not this disorder the real cause of consumption?

Ten years ago the microscope was something seldom found in a physician's office now every physician of standing has one and seldom visits his patients without calling for a sample of fluids for examination

Why is all this? Is it possible that we of the present generation are to die of diseases caused by kidney disorders? or shall we master the cause by Warner's safe cure, the only recognized specific and thus remove the effects? It is established beyond a doubt that a very large percentage of deaths in this country are traceable to diseased kidneys For years the proprietors of Warner's safe cure have been insisting that there is no sound health when the kidneys are diseased, and they enthusiastically press their specific for this terrible disorder upon public attention We are continually hearing its praises sounded

This means wonders'

Cannot the proprietors of this great remedy, who have been warning us of the danger, tell us how to avoid a disease that at first is so unimportant and is so fatal in its termination? Are we to hope against hope, and wait without our reward?

The most significant of all changes, however that we of to-day can note is this radical change of view to which the public has been educated It was formerly thought that the kidneys were of very small importance, to-day, we believe it is generally admitted that there can be no such thing as sound health in any organ if they are in the least degree deranged

Catarrh, Hay Fever and Catarrhal Deafness.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research has proved this fact and it is now made easy to cure this curse of our country in one or two simple applications made by the patient at home. Send stamp for circular describing this new treatment to A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 West King st., Toronto, Canada, and Melville House S.F.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

HOW HE DEFENDED HIS HENS.—A well-known citizen who has a mania for fine poultry and whose residence on the outskirts of the city is surrounded by henneries, tells a rather amusing story on himself. During the late cold snap, while the ground was covered with snow, he was awakened one night by a tremendous row among his poultry and the frantic barking of his watchdog. Seizing a loaded gun and slipping on his slippers, he sallied out in his night shirt to defend his beloved shanghais against any and all invaders. He found his dog arguing with a skunk, and without stopping to investigate the matter under dispute, banged away and knocked Mr. Skunk into a cocked hat. The dog at once seized the remains and shook them all over the country and all over his master as well, who immediately beat a retreat for the house. His wife who had got a sniff of the odor met him at the door and screaming "stay out! stay out! don't come in here!" shut the door in his face. This was a cool proceeding to say the least, and the husband and father thought so as he stood on the porch with his teeth chattering and his only garment fluttering in the breeze. In a few minutes his wife handed him out another night shirt with which to replace his perfumed one and was then allowed to come in. The next skunk that comes around that chicken-yard will have only the dog to contend with.

FIFTH SWEDENBORGIAN LECTURE.—The lecture at the Tabernacle, last night, by Rev. John Doughty, was on the subject of "Heaven." The speaker enlarged at first on the subject of the resurrection, quoting from various portions of the scriptures to show that the resurrection from the dead consisted not in a rising of the material body from the grave at some future judgment day, but in the rising of the spirit in its spiritual body, as taught by Paul, immediately after death. The soul thus enters into its own life without delay and in human form. He showed by the teachings of Christ that heaven was a state rather than a place; that we did not go heaven by the arbitrary fiat of God, but that we go there by the fact of heaven being within our souls. Therefore, heaven and hell exist entirely in consequence of our own acts and lives, and we go to one or the other according to our own choice—the law of affinity so operating in the other world, as that the evil and the good separate by mutual repulsion and the good coming together or the evil by mutual choice. The next lecture will be on Saturday evening next, on "The New Church Doctrine of Hell." Mr. Doughty will not lecture to-night.

THREE STEAMERS ON THE ALASKA ROUTE.—Improvements are being made to the steel steamer Olympian now lying at the boneyard. A number of staterooms are being built on the main deck and a few will be added to the hurricane deck. These additions are for the purpose of accommodating the tourist travel to Alaska during the coming season, which promises to be very large. The Olympian will make her first trip leaving April 17. Dates thereafter are as follows: May 1, 15 and 29, June 12 and 26, July 10 and 24, August 7 and 21, September 4 and 18, and the last trip October 2. That is to say, these are the dates for leaving Portland in order to take the steamer from Puget sound. The Olympian expects to make the round trip in eleven or twelve days. She will carry only express freight, and probably the mails. Besides the Olympian there will be the Ancon and Idaho, which will sail from Portland on the following dates: April 1 and 22, May 6 and 20, June 3 and 17, July 1, 15 and 29, August 12 and 26, September 9 and 23. This will give nearly a steamer a week for Alaska. The Olympian will be operated by the Pacific Coast Steamship company, which has leased her from the O. R. & N.

NO NEWS FROM THE LEASE.—Now, that the legislature has authorized the Oregon Railway and Navigation company to build a bridge and to lease its property to the Union Pacific, interest in the matter has subsided. Nothing is known by the officers of the company in this city as to future plans. They do not know, and have no means of learning how long they will be in office here, or whether, if a lease is consummated, there will be any change in the personnel of the Western management. Nothing has been heard from the bridge matter, and so far as known, Mr. Morison, the engineer, has not started for Portland. Perhaps preparations for the bridge and ordering material for it keeps him East. Whether the lease "comes off" or not, the bridge and depots on this side of the river will be built. Possibly the Union Pacific is waiting for congress to adjourn before taking any decisive steps. Numerous matters of local importance in connection with the O. R. & N. management are held in abeyance until something definite is arrived at in connection with the lease.

THE REDUCTION IN WATER RATES.—It is evident from the resolution lugged into the council Wednesday evening that there is a misunderstanding about the reduction in water rates, ordered by the committee at last Tuesday's meeting. The reduction of 75 cents a month applies to every consumer for domestic purposes. To state the matter so that it will be perfectly clear: the old company charged $1 50 a month for a single tap; then so much a month more for bath tubs, water closets, lawns, stables, etc., which to save words will be called extras. Now the committee have decided that this charge of $1 50 for the single tap shall be reduced to 75 cents in every household. There are 3300 families in Portland supplied with water. The reduction to these is $9 a year, making a total of $29,700. This is about 82½ per cent. of the stated receipts of the water company last year, viz: $108,000. Besides, the committee intend to reduce the rate on "extras" as much as possible, and this matter has been referred to a special committee.

AN ATTRACTION FOR CANVASBACKS.—A large sack of wild rice ordered from Minnesota has been received by Messrs. Everding & Farrell. It is for Messrs. Bybee, Scoggin & Co., who have a fine canvasback lake on Sauvie's island, where they intend to sow it, as a further attraction for the ducks. S. G. Reed and D. Monnastes will think it a cold day if they do not get some of the rice to sow in their lakes. The grain in its husk looks exactly like ordinary China rice but when the husk is stripped off the kernel is found to be not so white and clear. It will no doubt do well in this country as it flourishes in Minnesota where the climate is much colder. It must be remembered, however, that the climate there is much hotter in the summer than in Oregon and that may have something to do with rice-growing there. Perhaps rice-fed canvasbacks may be better than wapato-fed but it is doubtful.

RIVER PIRATES.—There is a stout, loutish-looking young fellow who owns an old skiff, has his headquarters under a wharf down town and follows the occupation of sturgeon fishing. He is suspected of playing the part of a river pirate and various and sundry missing ropes which had carelessly been left hanging over ships sides are charged to his account by the losers. Tools left on scows or anything of value which is portable has a way of mysteriously disappearing and the young man above-mentioned and an old "dago" who has likewise an old skiff are believed to be accountable for these disappearances. It is a difficult thing to catch fellows who go prowling around on the river in the dark and stilly night skulking under the shadows of ships and wharves but they will be nipped some day.

GOVERNMENT BOAT SOLD.—The government steamboat Dispatch was sold at auction yesterday, the purchaser being George T. Myers, who bid $1700. He will use the Dispatch in connection with his cannery at Woody island for towing boats, etc. The Dispatch was built to be used at Camp Chelan, on the upper Columbia, and was taken up there at great trouble and expense and shortly after brought back down over all the rapids. She was built about six years ago and has since been cut in two and had a piece put in and has had new machinery put in at an expense of $1900. It is estimated that the government has expended on the Dispatch, first and last, nearly $10,000.

RUN OVER.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening a small boy named Eddie Gloss, who resides with his parents at 270 B street, was knocked down at the corner of Second and Washington streets by a team of the Oregon Steam bakery driven by Peter Cook. The boy ran in front of the team in an endeavor to cross the street, and went under the horse's hind feet before the driver could possibly pull up. Young Gloss received quite a cut on the right side of the head, which was dressed by Dr. King, Cook, the driver, paying the bill. At the time of the accident the horse was trotting at a slow pace, and the driver is said to be blameless for the accident.

FINE NEW VEHICLES.—Notwithstanding that we have several carriage factories here, buggies, etc., are being brought out from the east in considerable numbers. A car load arrived yesterday for Magoon Bros., consisting of fifteen buggies and two coupes. Three of the buggies are novelties, having the underworks finished in silver bronze and looking as if they were of solid metal. The coupes are furnished with cases for mirrors, perfume bottles and clocks.

BURGLAR PLEADS GUILTY.—C. H. Ross, last summer's burglar, pleaded guilty in Judge Stearns's court yesterday to four charges of burglary and larceny of watches, jewelry, etc. Ross will receive sentence to-day. A dozen or more other cases against him will probably not be prosecuted for lack of sufficient proof to convict.

THREATENING TO KILL.—James Howard was arrested yesterday by Constable Sprague on a warrant from Justice Tuttle's court charging him with threatening to kill Mrs. W. M. Chambers December 15 last and frequently since. James Howard is the East Portland man who claims Frank Howard and Mrs. Chambers robbed him of all his money. Frank Howard was arrested for it, but on account of the inability of the authorities to procure certain evidence the charge did not stick. At that time Mrs. Chambers was in Sacramento. She was subsequently returned here by the U. S. marshal and released on her recognizance. She avers that since her return Howard has constantly followed and threatened her. Howard's case was set for examination to-day and his bonds fixed at $100.

COMPANY A ELECTION.—At the election held by company A, last evening for commissioned officers, A. Sutherland was elected captain, Frank G. Abell first lieutenant, and Dr. W. L. Brown second lieutenant. The company has made a very good selection of officers and they will all do their share in bringing the old Washington Guard to the front. The company will be recruited up and expects in six months or so to be able to pass muster with G or K or any other company in the O. S. M. They must have some good guns by and by.

POMPEII ILLUSTRATED.—The following is a resume of the lecture to be given at the Tabernacle to-night by Rev. T. L. Eliot: "A Symbolic Vase"—Pompeii described as it is and was A. D. 79; the forum temples, tombs and houses; life of a Roman; works of art; casts of bodies; inscriptions: graffiti; the great eruption; history in perspective; human nature then and now; the scenery, excavations, remarkable discoveries and local color of the buried city. There are forty stereopticon pictures to be displayed and commented on. Admission, 25 cents.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINES.—Charles W. Cornelius, of Gold Hill, is in the city and will spend several days. He states that the Gold Hill quartz mill has shut down, the roads being so bad from recent rains as to prevent teams with heavy loads getting through. The last lot of ore brought to the mill was highly satisfactory and miners are much encouraged. The prospects for the coming season, Mr. Cornelius says, are very good, indeed.

SNOW SLIDE.—Mr. C. W. Weber of Wardner, Idaho, is in the city. He gives an account of a snow slide which occurred in the upper part of the town of Wardner last Monday morning about 1:30. The snow was twelve feet deep and a great quantity came sliding down the mountain, crushing six or seven cabins. Jim Cronin, Tom Langdon and J. Pannell, miners, were caught by the slide and very badly bruised; none fatally.

ARRESTED FOR LIBEL.—A warrant was issued in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday for the arrest of Louis Gerson, a First street restaurant keeper, on a charge of libel. Gerson caused the publication of an article in an evening paper calling on S. Wilcox to come around and pay his board. Wilcox who claimed he had already settled, objects to the article, and wants Gerson punished for libel.

RUNAWAY.—About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as the driver of car 5 of the Washington street line was turning his team at Eighteenth and B streets, the horses started to run and went galloping to the top of the hill where they stopped of their own accord. Both horses were very badly bruised about the legs from the pole striking them and one of the animals is probably done for.

SLIGHT FIRES.—The hook and ladder company reported to two telephone alarms yesterday for chimney fires. The first was at 11:30 o'clock for a blaze at Emma Wingard's house, and the second, at 5 o'clock, for a roof fire of a dwelling house on Sixth street, between Alder and Morrison. This was put out before the hook and ladder company arrived. Damage slight in both cases.

DIVORCE GRANTED.—Georgiana Nachard was yesterday granted a divorce from Henry Nachard, and awarded the care of a minor child, Charles, aged 3 years. The parties were married in Clackamas county, May 29, 1882. February, 1884, defendant deserted plaintiff. This was the ground of the divorce.

LEG BROKEN.—Wednesday evening Phil Kerrigan, a barkeeper in the employ of Ed Morgan at the corner of Sixth and Washington streets, mounted a chair to fix a piece of stovepipe. He stumbled and fell to the floor, and in so doing broke one of his legs. He was taken home and medical aid summoned.

NEW COTTAGES.—The contract was let to George Gardner yesterday, through the office of O. Kleeman, to build two cottages on Third and Caruthers for H. T. Hudson. The price is $2038 and the houses will include all the late improvements.

THE BOOT AND SHOE INDUSTRY.

Something About the Factory of Akin, Selling & Co., and its Success.

Because Akin, Selling & Co., have not extensively advertised the fact, it may not be generally known that they are conducting in this city a first class boot and shoe factory. It is located at 313 Front street, between Jefferson and Columbia and occupies a room 60x100 feet. An OREGONIAN man visited the factory yesterday and was shown through by the courtesy of Mr. E. Capen, the superintendent. For those who have only seen footgear made by hand a visit to the factory will be of interest. They will see the latest and best machinery driven by steam doing the work of hands. There is a standard screw machine, sole-leather cutter, wax-thread machine, saddle-seam machine, burnishing machine, stamping machine and minor machines and appliances.

The Mackay Standard screw machine is a wonderful invention, and though thousands in Oregon and Washington wear boots and shoes made by it, they can have little idea as to how the soles are attached to the uppers; nor can the operation be easily described on paper. The machine takes a coil of wire and with ordinary speed revolves 3000 times a minute. It casts a thread on this wire, punches a hole, and when the wire strikes an iron last, clips the wire off even with the sole; then lifts itself up and repeats the operation until the bottom is securely fastened on the boot or shoe. Every boot and shoe turned out of the factory is made in this manner. At present, only men's kip and calf boots and shoes are made. The out-put has been from sixty to seventy-two pairs per day but so active has been the demand for the product of the factory on account of general excellence and adaptability to the wants of the Pacific coast that the firm must put in more machinery and employ more men, and turn out 120 pairs a day. They use the best Santa Cruz oak-tanned leather for both soles and uppers, and guarantee in every case stock and work. All their celebrated "Boss" boots, which are known far and wide in this country, are now made at their factory.

It is gratifying to note prosperity of any industry in the state, but particularly so with manufacturing enterprises, upon which the future of Portland and Oregon largely depends. Messrs. Akin, Selling & Co. have had large experience in their special line and are fully cognizant of the wants of this trade. They doubtless do the largest wholesale and jobbing business on the coast north of San Francisco, and have built up their trade by intelligent, honest methods, which may be summed up in the statement that they are always to be "depended on." While for some years to come they must be large importers of eastern manufacturers, the establishment of their factory here renders them independent of railroads and the East in one important branch of their trade. If the leather were tanned in Oregon very little of the money paid out for staple boots and shoes would leave the state. Messrs. Akin, Selling & Co. are to be congratulated on their success, because they have merited it.

PERSONAL.

Dr. James Braden, receiver of the land office at Walla Walla, is in the city.

Mr. Sig. Sichel of Goldendale is in the city, and will remain about two weeks.

Mr. Chas. H. Dodd returns to-day over the Northern Pacific from an extended trip East.

Marks Wilzinski called at the branch office of THE OREGONIAN in New York on the 6th ult.

Mr. I. A. Manning, city editor of the Salem Statesman is in the city and will remain until Monday.

Mr. B. Campbell general freight agent of the O. R. & N., has gone to New York and will return about April 1.

Mr. P. Selling and wife, and Mr. S. Selling and wife, return from California on the steamer, where they have been on a health trip.

Mrs. G. Shindler, Miss Carrie Shindler and Miss Lena M. Hurgren arrived on the steamer State of California from an extended trip to California, where they have been all winter. Mr. G. Shindler was to leave Europe about March 1 on his return trip.

Dr. Harry Lane appointed surgeon on the staff of Brig. Gen. Shofner, O. S. M., has respectfully declined on account of pressing business engagements. The title of "major" passes to the next surgeon, and Mr. Lane subsides into plain "Doc" once more.

Mr. J. W. G. Cofran is in the city. Somehow he can't keep away from Portland, but turns up smiling every once in a while. This time he comes from New England, where he has been living on spare ribs, flapjacks and maple syrup and all the other good things which make life tolerable down East.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

JAIL BREAK BALKED.

Two Burglars and a Murderer in the County Jail Make a Saw and Cut a Bar.

Another attempt to break from the county jail was discovered and frustrated Wednesday evening by Jailer Lounsbury. In this, Fay, Clayton's partner, Dan Moran and C. H. Ross, the burglar, were the principal actors. As usual a table knife made into a saw was used. This knife was passed into the right corridor, it is supposed by William M. Eddy, a trusty serving out a thirty days' sentence for stealing a lot of poker chips from a saloon. A pair of scissors that Ross had and a pocket knife, said by the jailer to be in Moran's possession yet, were used to nick the table knife in making the saw. It was used to cut away the bar of the iron door to which the bar attached to the lock outside is connected, and when found it was almost severed.

Jailer Lounsbury, on learning what was up and before putting a stop to operations, closed the wooden door in front of the iron one, and by looking through several holes which it contains, had the pleasure of witnessing Ross, Fay and Tom Sullivan, the murderer of Blanchard, sawing away at the bar. In the corridor, besides Sullivan, Moran, Ross and Fay, were confined Jack McDonald, Ed Norton, the burglar, and other leading lights in the criminal profession. The plan was simply to open the door and for the whole gang to skip.

It may be well enough in future not to have "trusties" around the city jail. If a "trusty" is necessary, let him be a sworn deputy and paid for his work, not chosen from the opium fiend and sneak thieves with which Portland abounds.

THE EAST SIDE.

BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED.

A gentleman was in from Columbia slough yesterday, and from him information concerning the condition of the long bridge between East Portland and the Columbia river is obtained. During the recent high water the bents near the north end of the bridge were loosened and have to be replaced. Mr. Smith the road supervisor in that district, will at once proceed with the necessary repairs. The timbers for the bents will be shipped from Portland on the ferry boat that has been lying at Albina for some time. It is expected that the bridge will be made safe for travel by next Wednesday. The ferry boat will resume trips between Vancouver and the Oregon side at once. Stages that have not been running for some time between Vancouver and Portland will probably commence making trips before long.

CALL EXTENDED.

The members of the Baptist church held a special meeting last night and extended a permanent call to Rev. T. D. Richards. Mr. Richards has been filling the pulpit of the Baptist church in this city for the past two months, and has shown himself an able minister of the gospel. The church will certainly prosper under his pastorage. His family who reside at Tama, Iowa, will remove to East Portland in early spring.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

D. K. Bill, of Ames, Oregon, was in East Portland yesterday.

Dan Prettyman, of Washougal, was in East Portland yesterday.

Mr. Wise, of Damascus was registered at the Fourth street hotel last night.

Irwin Watson goes to Eugene City this morning. He will remain there a few days.

The "clothes pin" ball given last night at Neppach's hall was an entire success.

H. Hansen was elected by the Sunday school board, M. E. church, Wednesday night, to attend the Sunday school convention at Salem.

Prof. L. J. Powell, president of the territorial college at Seattle, is in the city. He is the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Hill. The professor is here to see his father, who is very sick in Powell's valley.

Mrs. T. H. Brickell, of this city, bought a cabbage that had come from California, and on cutting the same open she found a centipede. It was alive when found. Mrs. Brickell preserved the reptile in a bottle.

BRIEF MENTION.

"Ruins of Pompeii" illustrated at the Tabernacle to-night.

The whistling buoy off the Columbia entrance has gone adrift.

Take the First street cars for the Tivoli. Four hours' amusement.

Curtains, towels and table linens cheaper than ever. L. J. Hartman & Co.

To-night's concert at the Taylor street M. E. church promises to be a grand affair. Some of the best talent of the city is represented.

John J. Sundblow, a subject of Russia, and Louis Eugene, a native of Genoa, yesterday filed notice of their intention of becoming citizens.

Judge Stearns will announce his decision to-day in the following cases: Martha C. Butler vs. Joseph Paquet et al.; R. F. Rowland vs. Carrie J. Hubbard.

Macdougall & Bower yesterday commenced suit in the state circuit court against the City of Salem company to recover $3900 for legal services rendered.

License to wed was issued yesterday for Joseph H. Brown and Martha N. Creecy, George R. Harvey and Hattie Knox, F. M. Donnelly and Mabel T. Huntington.

Wadhams & Elliott yesterday commenced suit in the state circuit court against K. Satter to recover $244 16 for goods sold and delivered between the years 1881 and 1883.

The jury in the case of Harry Prindle, who was tried Wednesday for swindling George C. LaRocque out of $4000, are still out, and it is presumed they will disagree.

The tug Columbia was to leave Astoria yesterday for Coos bay in command of Capt. McGee. She will tow on the bay until a new tug now building is ready for service.

There was a great crowd of passengers at the Ash-street dock yesterday for the Atlantic express. Many of them had come up on the steamer and were bound for Eastern Oregon to settle.

In many of the gardens around town crocuses are in bloom. Their yellow and purple blossoms, which would not be noticed a month later, form very attractive bits of color now, so soon after the disappearance of the snow.

Hugh Gemmell, a Pullman conductor on the Short Line, who was taken sick on Tuesday last, died at his residence in this city at noon yesterday. His ailment was inflammation of the brain. He was a member of Samaritan lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F.

Martin Gutfers fell dead on the deck of the Fannie Dutard at Astoria at noon Wednesday. He was first mate of the vessel and was superintending her loading at the Clatsop Mill company's dock. He had been at work right along, and died in the most sudden manner, of heart disease. He was a single man, a native of Denmark, aged 38 years.

DEPOSITION OF A MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL.

PORTLAND, March 3.

The Portland, Or., council of the Reformed church in the United States, in special session on the 2d inst. at the German Reformed church, Ninth and Stark streets, after having heard in the case twenty-two witnesses, found Rev. A. J. Olinger guilty of the following charges:

First—Unpastoral conduct in words and deeds.
Second—Deceitful braggartism.
Third—Illusory presentations for selfish designs to the disadvantage of others.
Fourth—Actual fraud.
Fifth—Malicious slanders.
Sixth—Intemperance.
Seventh—Rebellion against the order of the church.

Rev. A. J. Olinger having been a member of this ecclesiastical body since last September, was deposed from the ministry of the gospel by unanimous vote, five clergymen and five delegated elders being present.

The Reichstag Opened and the Emperor's Speech Read.

THE INSURRECTION IN BULGARIA.

Fighting between Loyalists and Rebels—The Ameer Raising an Army—Russian Intrigue in the East—War Notes.

BERLIN, March 3.—The new German reichstag opened to-day. The emperor's speech was read from the throne. In it he says he is gratified at the benevolent disposition the pope has shown toward the empire's foreign policy. The empire's efforts are continually directed to the maintenance of peace with all powers, and especially with Germany's neighbors. The foreign relations of the government are the same as when the last reichstag was opened. If the present reichstag without hesitation or division gives unanimous expression to the resolve that the nation will put forth its full strength in full panoply now and at all times against any attack upon our frontiers, such resolution, even before carried out, will materially strengthen the guarantees of peace and remove doubts which the late parliamentary debates may have inspired. The emperor feels assured that the reichstag by its resolutions will give the federal government's national policy a safe basis, and derives from this conviction the confident hope that God will bless his efforts to preserve the peace and security of Germany. Some internal bills that were submitted to the previous reichstag will again be offered. The creation of new sources of revenue and a reform of the methods of taxation are urged.

THE ATTENDANCE.

Two hundred and fifty members were present at the opening of the session. Among these most of the national liberals, including Von Bennigsen and Miquel. Prince Louis of Bavaria occupied a seat in the imperial box. Members of the bundesrath entered the chamber headed by Von Boettisher, representative of the chancellor, who read the emperor's speech. The concluding passages of the speech, referring to Germany's future policy, and appealing to the reichstag for unanimity in voting for the army bill, was repeatedly interrupted by cheers. When the reading had concluded, Count Lerinchenfe d proposed three cheers for the emperor, and led the demonstration in response.

VON MOLTKE IN THE CHAIR.

BERLIN, March 3.—At the first sitting of the new reichstag Von Moltke occupied the chair, as senior member, and appointed the provisional secretaries. On the names of the deputies being called 252 members responded, constituting a quorum.

Windthorst protested against the election of a president before the second ballots were concluded.

Minister Von Boetticher replied, repelling as unjustifiable, any attack intended to be a protest upon the summoning of the reichstag to-day. He said the government, on the contrary, deserved thanks for expediting the opening, in order to pass the budget without delay. Moreover, any such criticism was an encroachment on the rights of the emperor, because when his majesty summoned the reichstag the members were bound to appear.

Richter admitted that the reason of expediency favored an early meeting of the reichstag, but there was a legal question at issue, sixty electoral districts being still unrepresented.

THE BULGARIAN REVOLT.

Contrary to former Reports, the Rebels Seem Masters of the Situation.

PARIS, March 3.—Telegrams from Bulgaria have been received stating that the Silistria garrison occupies a defile before the city, and by virtue of the position so held prevents the passage through the defile of the garrison from Rustchuk and Shumla on their way to attack the revolters at Silistria. The opposing forces, the dispatches say, now confront each other, but as yet no conflict has taken place between them.

Another insurrectionary movement is reported to have taken place near Tartar Bazardjik in Eastern Roumalia, a short distance from Philippopolis. Roumelia is massing troops along her frontier as a measure of precaution. Turkish troops are being concentrated along the Roumelian frontier.

ANOTHER REVOLT AT RUSTCHUK.

BUCHAREST, March 3.—During the absence of the garrison from Rustchuk, a revolt took place there. Firing has also been heard in the direction of Giurgevo. Communication between Roumania and Bulgaria has been stopped. The leaders of the insurgents at Silistria have crossed the Danube and have been placed in custody by the Roumanian authorities. The opinion here is that the outbreak at Silistria was merely intended as a diversion to draw the troops from Rustchuk, which is the real center of the revolt.

TELEGRAPH WIRES CUT.

VIENNA, March 3.—The Bulgarian troops who have revolted at Silistria have cut the telegraph wires, delaying the transmission of the details of the occurrence. The troops sent by the government to overpower the revolters arrived before Silistria yesterday.

A report has been received here that the commander of the insurgent troops at Silistria, Bulgaria, has been arrested. News from Silistria, however, is both meager and vague.

SILISTRIA REVOLT SUPPRESSED.

SOFIA, March 3.—Loyal troops of the Shumla garrison suppressed the revolt at Silistria. The engagement was brief and almost bloodless.

The insurgents occupy a citadel at Rustchuk, and are shelling the loyalists in the barracks.

The leaders of the Silistria revolt did not cross the Danube, but passed into Dobrudja. The garrison at Rustchuk split in two factions. The government troops attacked the rebels, sheltered in the barracks. Many have been killed and wounded. Nobody is allowed to leave Rustchuk.

ENGLAND.

DILLON DENOUNCES THE GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, March 3.—In the commons to-night Dillon, commenting on the vote of £30,000 for Irish police, pointed out that the claim was in addition to £62,500 already voted for extra pay and travelling expenses. The greater portion of this money had been spent in endeavoring to suppress public meetings, and carrying on the work of eviction. The government avoided indicating the sums spent on evictions. If the English people knew how their money was spent they would rise in rebellion against such a system. He was informed that the cost of the Woodford evictions amounted to £1300, while the total amount in dispute between landlord and tenants was only £25. No amount of expenditure would ever suppress the plan of campaign or public meetings.

He warned the government that meetings would continue, and if bloodshed should follow, the shame and crime would be on the head of the government. ("Hear! Hear!") He had been accused of not denouncing crimes in Ireland. He had done better. He had appealed to the people to abstain from crime. It was the action of the government that led to the commission of outrages.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION BY THE QUEEN.

LONDON, March 3.—The first queen's jubilee "drawing room" was held to-day at Buckingham palace. Her majesty is in the enjoyment of fine health. She took an hour's drive before the time appointed for the event. The attendance was greater than at any preceding affair of the kind during the long reign of the queen. The number of debutantes was unprecedented. The weather was fine. Crowds congregated in the parks and roadways around the palace numbered many thousands. Court officials say the reception was the most brilliant they ever attended.

LONDON NOTES.

LONDON, March 3.—It is rumored that the Irish leaders are contemplating the issue of a "no tax" manifesto.

The government is preparing a bill to amend the limited liability act, so as to prevent the promotion of bogus enterprises.

The colonial conference will meet April 4.

CONVICTED OF LIBEL.

LONDON, March 3.—In the suit for libel brought by Dr. Bird, the family physician of Lady Colin Campbell, against Dr. Billerman, editor of Life, for publishing under the caption "Cocknolly Bird" an article imputing to Dr. Bird improper relations with his patient, the defendant was to-day convicted.

WILL APPEAL TO THE VATICAN.

LONDON, March 3.—The government intends to call the attention of the Vatican to Archbishop Croke's letter advising non-payment of taxes in Ireland.

SPECIAL CABINET MEETING.

LONDON, March 3.—A special cabinet meeting to consider the Irish situation was held to-day.

WAR NOTES.

RUSSIAN INTRIGUE IN THE EAST.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Star's London cable special says: Telegrams from all points in relation to the Russo-Austrian situation are agreed that Russian agents in Bulgaria will be instructed to foment disturbances. In Downing street it is stated that dispatches from British representatives to the Balkan states have been received showing that Russia is hampering the regency at every turn, and keeping the country in a state of chronic disquiet. All reports concur in declaring that the population is divided into factions, and ripe for civil war. Telegraphic communication with Bulgaria is interrupted, and it has been impossible to secure direct intelligence from independent sources of the events going on at Silistria.

The cable discrediting the reported renewal of the convention between Italy, Austria and Germany is fully confirmed by semi-official communications. Negotiations are proceeding, but have not reached a definite conclusion.

A BLACK PROSPECT.

LONDON, March 3. The European prospect is again black. To-day the worst news is that the whole Austrian cavalry is massed on the Galician frontier. An experienced diplomatist gives the opinion that war will not break out this year. If Russia, he thinks, meant to attack this year, she would begin early. The immediate danger is the Bulgarian revolution. If we escape that peace may yet be preserved.

WILL HAVE NO FOREIGNERS.

PARIS, March 3.—General Boulanger has decided that in future no officer in the army shall be allowed to have in his service any foreigner of either sex. This decree comes from the fact that the governess of General Davout's children has been discovered to be the wife of a Prussian officer quartered at Neuf, Brussels.

THE NEW EXPLOSIVE.

BUCHAREST, March 3.—Gen. Brialmont, who has been experimenting in Belgium with the explosive mellnite, has advised the Roumanian government to suspend labor on defensive works around Bucharest, as it will be necessary to devise new plans to withstand the new explosive.

HORSES FOR THE ARMY.

LONDON, March 3.—Horses, for military purposes, are being purchased in North Wales by continental buyers.

AFGHANISTAN.

THE AMEER RAISING AN ARMY.

BOMBAY, March 3.—News received from Afghanistan through native sources shows that the ameer is making strenuous efforts to raise a new army. All boys between the ages of 10 and 18 years are being drilled for military service and all who have reached the age of 18 are being enrolled in the army. The ameer has issued a circular to his subjects telling them to prepare for a holy war. It is believed he contemplates war against Russia.

A PRETENDER ARISES.

BOMBAY, March 3.—A telegram from Lahore confirms the reports that the ameer of Afghanistan is raising a new army in preparation for war. The telegram adds that the son of a fanatic dervish, Mushk Alum, backed by Tarahs, Indors, Utaks, Jokees, Kakars and other tribes, has proclaimed himself ruler of Afghanistan and has sent the ameer a defiant letter threatening to attack him without delay.

CANADA.

CANADA WILL RETALIATE.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 3.—The minister of customs is preparing a bill which, it has been stated, will be presented to parliament in case the United States congress should pass the retaliation measures. The bill will largely increase duties on American imports.

SIX MEN PERISH IN A SNOW-SLIDE.

MONTREAL, March 3.—Word has been received here that on Tuesday last a large gang of men, together with two engines and a snow plow, was caught in a snow-slide at Selkirk. Six of the men were smothered before they could be gotten out.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD TO RESIGN.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 3.—It is said that Sir John MacDonald is soon to resign the premiership and go to London as dominion high commissioner. If the tories win the election it is expected that he will return to Ottawa as governor-general.

ITALY.

THE K. OF L. AND THE CHURCH.

ROME, March 3.—It is said on authority that there is no likelihood that the holy see will take other than the most favorable view of the attitude of Cardinal Gibbons and the American bishops towards the Knights of Labor. Statements drawn up by the papal ablegate, letters from certain American Catholic statesmen to the pope, and the personal opinion of Cardinal Manning, all support Cardinal Gibbons. The pope himself, it is said, favors the aspiration of modern labor.

CABLE NOTES.

BRITISH VICE-CONSUL CAPTURED BY SAVAGES.

LONDON, March 3.—Savages captured and carried away with them the British vice-consul at Rio del Rey, in the Cameroons country. A gunboat has been sent to rescue him.

FRENCH MEN DISMISSED BY THE KHEDIVE.

PARIS, March 3.—A sensation was caused by the publication in the Temps of a dispatch from Cairo, stating that all the French officials in the khedive's service have been dismissed.

CHINA.

CHUSAN ISLANDS CEDED TO GERMANY.

PARIS, March 3.—A telegram from Shanghai says China has ceded to Germany the Chusan islands, off the coast of China, opposite the estuary of the Tsien-Tang-Kiang.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

Presidents of the Transcontinental Roads Consider the New Law.

NEW YORK, March 3.—One of the most important and largely attended conferences of transcontinental railroad managers ever held in this city was closed to-day. It was held in the Northern Pacific office, and lasted two days. Roads represented were the Central Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Southern Pacific. They were represented by presidents C. F. Adams, R. Harris, C. P. Huntington, Charles T. Crocker, William B. Strong and Jay Gould, and Traffic Managers Kimball, Towne and Calloway. Vice-presidents of some of the roads were also present, and counsellors Gray of the Northern Pacific, Sidney Dillon and Tweed of the Southern Pacific.

The conference discussed the questions, first, as to the requirements of the interstate commerce bill; and second, how the transcontinental roads can get into harmony with the law and meet the demands of public sentiment. The result of their deliberations was that two tariffs for freight and passenger business should be prepared, one under the long haul clause and the other under the short haul clause, as they are understood by the roads. These tariffs are to take effect April 5, and are to be submitted to the interstate railway commissioners within a reasonable time after their appointment is announced. A committee was also appointed to prepare, under the advice of counsel, a memorial to the interstate commission, setting forth the interpretation of the law as arrived at by the transcontinental railway companies, and soliciting the approval of the tariffs, if their provision shall meet the views of the commissioners.

EXCURSIONS.

The traffic committee, which concluded its labors on freight classification Tuesday, joined the passenger agents and other railway magnates to day. The subject of discussion was interpretation of the interstate commerce law. The opinion in relation to the meaning of the excursion clause varied widely. Eastern men were inclined to construe it liberally and Western managers favored a strict interpretation. Owing to this, the conference was unable to come to any definite conclusion until to-day, when a report was agreed upon. This will be presented to-morrow. The following was adopted:

Resolved, That where eastward through freight rates are quoted by the agreement to any point on any railway, no bill of lading at a higher rate can be issued to a shorter intermediate point on the same line.

Resolved, That under present conditions, where eastbound or westbound through bills of lading are given to points beyond Chicago, St. Louis or other junction points in joint common territory, to or from which the roads or associations thereof establish their tariffs, rates in both directions should be quoted only via such connecting roads as shall join in rates to intermediate points not in excess of rates to percentage points beyond.

The standing committee of the joint committee have decided that the Central Traffic association percentage scale from Missouri river points be adopted. It recommended that rates from and to those points be based thereon and apply on all traffic billed therefrom or thereto. Provided, that railways leading to and from said Missouri river points authorize rates no higher than said Missouri river rates to and from all those points east thereof, through junctions with railways and lines in the joint committee. Otherwise the rates of the joint committee to and from said junctions shall be made and prevail on all traffic exchange with such connections, according to the adopted percentage scale.

The joint committee meet again to-morrow.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE BELL TELEPHONE SUITS.

BOSTON, March 3.—The Bell Telephone company have filed an important answer in the U. S. circuit court regarding the government's suits to break the patents. The company asks leave, in addition to filing a demurrer to the suit, to plead the fact that decisions have already been given in other suits which involved the same questions as those now presented. It represents to the court that the questions which it desires to raise by such a plea are closely akin to those which would be raised by a demurrer, and that much time and expense will be saved by presenting and arguing them at the time. The motion then continues: The bill referred to purports to state the contents of certain written communications from the commissioner of patents to Elisha Gray, dated February 19, 1876, and February 25, 1876, but does not make copies of them part of the bill. This respondent denies, and is advised that it should present copies thereof to the court by plea, because the legal effect thereof cannot be otherwise ascertained." It further states that the voluminous records of litigation are now before the supreme court on appeal, and held under advisement, and that it would be indecorous and contrary to the usages of courts of equity to retry any questions pending before the supreme court. There will probably be an early hearing on the motion in the circuit court.

THE EMBARRASSED MONARCH LINE.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The reports current in shipping circles yesterday, that the Wilson steamship line had become the owners of the embarrassed Monarch line steamers, were correct. The confirmation to this report was that the Wilson line had advanced about $130,000 to the Monarch line for the release of the steamers Lydian Monarch and Persian Monarch, which had been under libel at this port for two months; that the Persian Monarch is being loaded by the New York agents of the Wilson line, and that a settlement of affairs would be made when the two steamers reach London. It is said the Wilson line would continue to run the Monarch line vessels from New York.

AN ANARCHIST DEMONSTRATION.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A large crowd of anarchists filled Clarenden hall to-night and howled and hissed, derided and menaced, when mention was made of the recorder, Col. Fellows, the press, and especially the reporters. Braunschweig and Schenck, two anarchists sentenced by Recorder Smythe to Blackwell's island with anarchist Johann Most, had been released, and the meeting was one of homage to them. The two ex-convicts made fiery speeches, which were enthusiastically applauded. They declared themselves more devoted to anarchy than before their imprisonment, and said they were ready to go to the gallows in the fight if necessary.

DRUNKEN MARRIAGE NOT LEGAL.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The jury in the action brought by Minnie Clark, who called herself Mrs. Mary Kittson, against Hercules Kittson, youngest son of Commodore Kittson, for a legal separation on the ground of his abandonment, to-day decided that although there had been a ceremony of marriage, yet at the time the defendant was incapable of entering into any such contract because of his being intoxicated. The jury found that the plaintiff and defendant had not cohabited as husband and wife, and that she is a person of questionable character.

A SOUTHERNER FOR BLAINE.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Judge O. A. Cochrane, a prominent Georgia Independent, speaking of the outlook for 1888 down South, said: "I am for Blaine, and my state will send a republican delegation to the national convention pledged to him. He is the only republican I know of who can rehabilitate the republican party in the South. Since President Grant failed to get a third term the party there has been nothing. It went to pieces then, and has never accomplished anything since. Democrats in my state are not solid for Cleveland. The president hasn't the support of many democrats in the South."

REJOICING OVER THE EDMUNDS BILL.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 3.—There is great rejoicing in this city to-day among owners of boats and fishermen over the passage of the Edmunds bill. At noon all the bells were rung, colors hoisted and guns fired.

FREIGHTS—A number of arrivals during the week and two charters has lent new interest to shipping matters, yet the loading movement is small. Arrivals were Olive S. Southard, wood; Mobile Bay, Jupiter, Pomona, Glenavon, Loch Ranza and Swansea Castle, iron. All of these came seeking and create quite a list of open tonnage. On spot the North Riding and British Army, iron, secured grain business, certainly at not over 35s for orders. About ten vessels now en route are considered due. The market is weak both from local causes and San Francisco advices. No inquiry is remarked for to arrive tonnage the prospect not being at all favorable to any advance. The Patterdale with wheat for orders and the Ballochmyle with mixed cargo for Liverpool sailed Wednesday.

WHEAT—Arrivals for the week 181 tons valley, and 1234 tons Walla Walla, against 2064 and 2737 tons the same week last year and 512 and 491 tons the preceding week this year. The past week's receipts of valley has been mostly by the west side road, boats bringing very little. The Walla Walla is coming mostly from Waitsburg and Dayton. Two vessels only are in wheat berth, both being promised early dispatch.

For the week the foreign markets have steadily presented an easy front, any value changes being to a lower level. The decline in California cargoes is about a sixpence. The influence seems to have been heavy arrivals off coast, with no marked change in the quantity afloat. New York and Chicago fluctuated within a narrow range. The American visible fell off over two million bushels last week. It is yet 5,500,000 bushels greater than a year ago. Under low prospective freights San Francisco is some higher. Little business has been done there in freights, but the market is certainly lower. The California shipper has no particular need and the holder refuses to part with his product to any extent within the views of buyers. More is done in futures at the close. Our market presents little other than inactivity. Valley mills continue to pay on basis of $1 37½ here, but secure little. More money seems necessary to buy any quantity. Shippers say this figure is a full value, but a round lot might do a shade better. Small lots of course are not in favor with them, and if offered would hardly bring out the milling figure. Walla Walla is still nominally $1 30. Offerings here attract no more, yet current report says late interior buying has been at a slight advance. Some offered at a fraction over $1 30 was not sold. A large fleet of open tonnage is now at hand, but it will be taken up slowly, although it is understood that fully 20,000 tons of grain is in warehouse here. To-day's cables are of better markets, cargoes regaining a portion of the week's decline. San Francisco is strong and the feeling here is slightly more buoyant. Valley has refused $1 37½, holders claiming more to be possible.

FLOUR—Receipts for the week 1601 bbls valley, and 1609 bbls Walla Walla, a light movement. Some of the largest mills are idle, while others are running light. Demand only fair. Market steady on basis of $4 25 for standards. The Ballochmyle has cleared for Liverpool with 1600 tons from various mills. San Francisco is taking less.

MILLSTUFF—While receipts of late have been light they mark some little increase. A few lots of chop have come in. Throughout stocks are low, while the request is good. Values firm. We quote jobbing prices: Bran, $19@20; shorts, $20@21; chop, $25@27 50; ground barley, $26@27 50; oat meal, $32 50.

OATS—Receipts for a week 4809 centals, a full average as arrivals have been of late. Shipments by two steamers, 916 centals, although the San Francisco market has declined with barley. Here weakness has been manifest for several days. Dealers are quite well stocked and offerings freer at the recent high range. There is nothing more than a local market which cannot be quoted beyond 48@50c. Orders are filled at the usual advance. The undertone is not favorable.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples in steady movement, two steamers taking 2264 boxes. These are of fair quality and quoted 75c@$1. Choicer qualities bring up to $1 25. Oranges in larger receipt and of better quality, selling at $2 50@5 50. Lemons $5 50@6.

BUTTER—California fresh roll largely dealt in at 22@23c; pickled roll 16@20c. Choice local dairy in fair movement at 20@25c; poorer sorts find no favor, guild being something of a drag at about 18c.

EGGS—Until near the close light arrivals kept the market firm at the early advance to 35c. For two days receipts have been in excess of demands, but several large dealers refused to lower prices because of demands for Alaska. To-day there is a good stock and a weak market, 30@35c being quoted. The steamer landed 26 cases from California to-day.

VEGETABLES—California importations sell readily and prices are firm. Cabbage, $2 60@2 75; celery, 90c; cauliflower, $1 30.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The stock market was moderately active to-day, and with the exception of a period of weakness in the afternoon was firm to strong throughout. Union Pacific showed unusual strength, which was attributed to buying by a Washington party to cover shorts. The opening was somewhat irregular, but a majority of stocks were slight fractions above last evening's final quotations. There was more animation to early dealings than there has usually been for the past week, and the tone was strong. Western Union, Union Pacific and Green Bay being the most prominent in the rise. Toward the end of the first hour there was a marked decrease in the amount of business done, and later there was a slight yielding of values in the general list, while Richmond & West Point was decidedly weak. The market quickly rallied, however, but after noon the firm tone entirely disappeared and the market became dull and heavy. In the last hour strength again returned, New England becoming prominent, and the close was active and strong at or near the best prices of the day.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

A SNOW BOUND TRAIN.

MOSCOW, Feb. 27.

The branch line from Palouse Junction to Moscow is having a wrestle with "the Beautiful" and, were it not for the friendly "chinook" which has just set in, yesterday would have seen this offspring of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company "knocked out."

A plain, ordinary "pilot" is not just the proper appliance for an antiquated switch engine to "buck" snow with, and it is not surprising that the passenger train which left Colfax for Moscow on the afternoon of the 26th should have been "laid out" all night a few miles from the latter place, said pilot being effectual only in piloting the engine off the track.

Passengers reached Moscow safely, a few hours behind time, with appetites which spread a ghastly pallor over the features of the hotel proprietor. Walking snow-covered trestles after dark, and plodding through drifts made an appreciative party of the gang of six, as they were overtaken and taken in by the jumbo-hearted granger, with a "pung-sled" and span of cayuses, who made quite a "stake" during the night transporting passengers at four bits a head.

"Strange to relate" a "Drummer" was the first and only one to purchase and send back provisions and coffee to the supperless passengers and train men—a little act, to be sure, but it may serve to enlighten the Solomon of a certain editorial sanctum, that all commercial travelers are not "moral-lepers" or void of generous impulses.

An Editor's Testimonial.

A. M. Vaughan, editor of the "Greenwich Review," Greenwich, O., writes: "Last January I met with a very severe accident, caused by a runaway horse. I used almost every kind of salve to heal the wounds which turned to running sores, but found nothing to do me any good till I was recommended HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE. I bought a box and it helped me at once, and at the end of two months I was completely well. It is the best salve in the market, and I never fail of telling my friends about it, and urge them to use it whenever in need.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

NEITHER APPROVED NOR DISAPPROVED.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The bill for redemption of trade dollars, and the anti-polygamy bill have become laws without the president's signature, by reason of the expiration to-night of the constitutional limitation of ten days within which he should have returned the bills to congress in case of disapproval. Both bills were carefully considered by the president, and while they contained some provisions to which he preferred not to commit himself, he was unwilling to defeat the objects of the measures by a veto.

In view of the lack of vault room in the New York sub-treasury, where it is presumed the bulk of the trade dollars will be presented for redemption, Acting Secretary Fairchild has instructed the assistant treasurer at New York to forward coins as fast as redeemed to the assay office, where they will be melted into bars of convenient size, each representing about $1500, and stored in that office until suitable vault rooms are provided for their safe keeping.

APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The president to-day approved the following acts: To authorize the president of the United States to protect and defend the rights of American fishing vessels and American fishermen, and trading and other vessels in the British dominions of North America; the Indian appropriations bill; an act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with colleges established under the act of July, 1862; an act to provide for the location and erection of a branch home for disabled volunteer soldiers west of the Rocky mountains; an act relating to contested elections; an act granting the right of way through the Indian territory to the Nebraska Railroad company.

The president also signed the following measures: A diplomatic and consular appropriation bill; agricultural appropriation bill; act to restrict the ownership of real estate in the territories to American citizens, and the Pacific railway inquiry bill.

A REPORT AGAINST ARBITRATION.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Chairman Curtin, of the select committee created by the house of representatives to inquire into the cause and extent of the Western railroad strikes, to-day submitted the report of that committee. By far the larger part of the report is devoted to a history of the origin and progress of the Missouri Pacific strike and a recapitulation of the testimony taken by the committee. In regard to arbitration the report says: "A majority of your committee cannot believe that arbitration can be effective, for the reason that there must be two parties to the arbitration, and either may decline; and when the disturbances occur it would not be effective in immediately redressing wrongs or restoring the means of transit of persons and property to the people of the country."

THE PLAN OF THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The president has decided not to go to the capitol to-morrow for the purpose of acting on measures which may be passed by congress during the last hours of the session. He advised the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of his decision in this respect early last evening, and added that the executive office would remain open all night, and up to the very hour of adjournment at noon to-morrow, for the consideration of all matters requiring executive action. In accordance with this plan the president and most of the members of his cabinet will remain on duty at the White house nearly all night in consideration of a large number of important bills which passed the senate yesterday.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The president has commuted the death sentence in the case of John Washington and Simmons Wolf, two Seminole Indians, to imprisonment for life. These Indians were convicted of rape on the person of a white woman in Indian territory, and were sentenced to be hanged February 8 last. The president granted a respite until March 4, and has commuted the sentence. His action was based on doubt as to the guilt of the Indians.

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: Thos. W. Burchinell, of Colorado, to be receiver of public moneys at Leadville, Col.; Monroe L. Allison, of Colorado, to be receiver of public moneys at Gunnison, Col.; John R. Whiteside, of Dakota, to be register of the land office at Deadwood, Dakota; Frank V. Bean, to be register of the land office at Blackfoot, Idaho.

MANNING'S SUCCESSOR.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—It is stated at the White house that Secretary Manning's successor will not be appointed for several days yet. This is regarded as unfavorable to the promotion of Assistant Secretary Fairchild.

INFORMAL CABINET MEETING.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—There will be an informal meeting of the cabinet at the White house this evening for the consideration of all bills which may in the meantime be submitted to the president.

THE LAND LAWS WILL STAND.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The conference committee on the bill repealing the pre-emption, timber culture and desert land laws has failed to agree, and will so report to their respective houses.

POSTOFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The second conference on the postoffice appropriation bill has, like the first, resulted in a disagreement on the subsidy amendment.

STATE DISPATCHES.

NEWS ITEMS FROM SALEM.

SALEM, March 3.—Mrs. Catharine Burkholder, a highly respected woman living near Aurora, was brought up on this morning's train, and after examination committed to the asylum. Her mind is affected about religion.

Some parties unknown broke into the house of the section gang of Chinamen, near the depot, last night, and stole a lot of blankets and other articles of value. No arrests.

The state board of education to-day approved the plans for a new agricultural college building at Corvallis. The money has already been subscribed by the citizens of Benton county. It is to cost $20,000 and bids will be received immediately. The building will probably be completed this year.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

WALLA WALLA WILL VISIT PENDLETON.

WALLA WALLA, March 3.—A return excursion of 200 strong, with the mayor and many prominent citizens and the Second cavalry, leave for Pendleton Friday morning.

DR. JOHN BULL'S

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

Our facilities for COLLECTIONS are excellent and we re-discount for banks when balances warrant it.

Boston is a Reserve City, and balances with us from banks (not located in other Reserve Cities) count as a reserve.

We draw our own Exchange on London and the Continent, and make Cable transfers and place money by telegraph throughout the United States and Canada.

Government Bonds bought and sold, and Exchanges in Washington made for Banks without extra charge. We have a market for prime first class Investment Securities, and invite proposals from States, Counties and Cities when issuing bonds.

We do a general banking business, and invite correspondents.
